In a world where dreams have slipped away
All our sorrows come to stay
I believe in this one single word

Struggling hard to find some solid ground
Lost in doubts, our fears abound.
In the somewhere a voice can be heard

Listen
Listen
The wind blows
Listen Listen
Our heart knows, trust

When we have no wings to fly away
When the night resides in all our days
The mountain climb is far too steep
The waters wide too deep

It's a greenest grass that breaks through earth
It's the miracle of birth
It's the Spring that lies hidden in snow

It's our daily bread that starts as grain
And a prayer that heals our pain
For every rain drop a flower does grow
It's the bird that flies against forceful winds
And a heart forgives our greatest sins
It is the one who takes a chance,
Who dares to live this dance

It's the greatest story ever told
How the smallest voice turns meek to bold
The strength we have
To rise above
BELIEVE IN HOPE and LOVE

Listen
Listen
Our heart knows
Listen Listen

A Message of HOPE
