Twelve noon
Watch her sleeping in your room
Why can't that still be me
Two o'clock and I'm still driving round your block
Feeling a little
Crazy

You'd change your number and move to the suburbs
You run but you can't hide
You thought I'd forget all of your passwords
But I like showing up at your place
So surprising is that look on your face

I am underneath your street light
Blowing kissing every night
Psycho love forever
I'm right outside your window
Throwing rocks and starting fights
Psycho love forever

So weeks pass and I found myself another guy
Someone who loves me equally, yeah
The tables turn and you're not happy
When you learn he's moving in with me
He bought me a big ring we moved to the city
Now you won't stop calling
'Cause you always thought that you'd have your plan B
Now your showing
Up at my place
Not surprising
We both play this game

You're underneath my street light
Blowing kisses every night

Psycho love forever
You're right outside my window
Throwing rocks and starting fights
Psycho love forever

La la la la

La la la la
Forever
La la la la
La la la la

You'd change your number and move to the suburbs
You run but you can't hide
You thought I'd forget all of your passwords
But I like showing up at your place
So surprising that look on your face

I am underneath your street light
Blowing kissing every night
Psycho love forever
I'm right outside your window
Throwing rocks and starting fights
Psycho love forever

I am underneath your street light
Blowing kissing every night
Psycho love forever
I'm right outside your window
Psycho love
