my circle of friends I could count on one finger and then that's where it ends it's only a circle cause she goes around in my memory
and then that's where it ends
there she goes again is she really a friend if she only comes around in memories?
I don't know do I need some kind of remedy For be alone
there she goes again
I spend my days doing things that don't matter and my nights are filled with things that are sadder now look at all I've thrown away
there she goes again
memories?
I don't know do I need some kind of therapy
For be alone
there she goes again
