(Verse 1)

In the beginning, I remember that God made man crafted in his image, with his own hands then out of mans rib, came the woman the creatures we love, like or don't understand but its amazing, I see God's beauty through her physical design plus her mind combined defines miracle and I'm not convinced that a mineral or bang from the sky can derive such individuals and as the world turns, I wonder with concern the time we'll meet and complete each other words I'm kidding, but who says fantasies forbidden see I'm the type of cat, that express myself from within driven, to promote love in every essence living by this mission its hard to miss the blessings caressing the mic like a newlywed wife ink flows from my pen in hopes to truly shed light upon this situation that I'm faced with one that takes patience to build on foundation that we both share now that's stimulation anything less don't impress know what I'm sayin?
I look into the mirror and everyday it gets clear I gotta steer from the places I've veered I said I look into the mirror and everyday it gets clear I gotta steer...

(Chorus)

Cause I've been lookin for love lookin for love yall
In all the wrong places.
lookin for love lookin for love yall
In all the wrong places.

(verse 2)

And in the summer, heat waves rise from the street pave warm nights mixed drinks dope djs females super fly, showing mad thigh thoughts of lust rush guys dont ask why is it her presence or feminine vibe? when her body rebels against a vertical line?
that got guys lying for personal time and once they get their catch , they back on the grind and i'm just kicking my feet up like Bruce Lee reclined, when this dime approaches within few feet style, not unique, but def got the beauty so who cares when this cutie now pursues me and with charm I'm on her arm like Coachbag one of the few effortless things life threw back then like annoyed smokers we found no match and fell apart, without knowing romance but what I found, proved to be more special a lesson from experience, a jewel for the mental shining from my notepad with rhymes signed in pencil outlining my finding using life as a stencil and for this I feel mad fortunate for real I'm done with that short term fix and I ask can I be fortunate? to know that I'm done with this

(Chorus)

Cause I've been looking for love looking for love yall
In all the wrong places.
looking for love looking for love yall
In all the wrong places.

(verse 3)

And now I ponder, about the times that we might have caressing questions that sing from my mic stand like damn whats these feelings I'm revealing like if I'd tell tha fellas I'd get smacked in my melon but its unique love only women can provide I seent it in my moms, I seent it in her eyes I seent it in these guys when proposing to their brides down on bended knee with diamonds shining near her thighs
it makes me visualize, the way that we'd get down I'd take the lead, and no doubt you'd wear the crown the one I'd serve, cause she feels my vibe supports my wings, till the day that we fly and I know that right now, that we'd grow despite how the world is on our shoulders trying to control our lifestyles
we wont get wiped out, if on the right route soon we'll reunite and then I'll recite out since the beginning of man our separation is fact I said you came from mans rib now I'm taking it back I said you came from mans rib and now I'm taking it back
I said you came from mans rib so join me as.. we find love, we'll find love girl in all the wrong places
