You know I don't answer this because I'm just too weak

For it

You say: I can't handle it,

The way you look is so: scandalous

You see me falling down a long way

You're watching with interest,

You're telling all your friends

Don't tell that I missed them

Oh, I see instantly what I built up perfectly

No, we've got nothing in common today

You sit down just to shit on my way

But there's nothing that I could say,

No there's nothing that I could say

There is nothing that I could do

Nothing to choose, nowhere to hide a heart that is

Bruised

But it'll be fine, fine, fine

You see me falling down a long way and you're watching

With interest

So you tell it all your friends

Please don't tell that I missed them

Oh, I see instantly what I built up perfectly

No, we've got nothing in common today

You sit down just to shit on my way

But there's nothing that I could say

No there's nothing that I could say

No there's nothing that I could say

We've got nothing in common tonight

You lay down just to lay on my side

There's something that we both can't deny

But somehow it just don't feel right

No, no, no, no

So you look up, you look all night, no you don't stop,

You're up all night (3x)

You sit down to shit on my way
You sit down to shit on my way

No, we've got nothing in common tonight
You sit down just to shit on my way
But there's nothing that I could say
No, there's nothing that I could say
We've got nothing in common tonight
You lay down just to lay on my side
There's something that we both can't deny
But somehow it just don't feel right
