The guy next door, here next to me, I dont know what can I do with him
He keeps whistling and calling for me, and I find him everywhere (x2)

Even though I love him, he stands by me all day long Why did he do this ? whats wrong with me ...why do I have to worry

Always, dad, dad, he stares at me all the time
He makes me shy, he stares right through my eyes

And there is nothing, my darling, that I can control anything other than love him, and stay up from his love, what else can I do, what?

Becuase I love him I forget, my night and my days days
And the longing in my heart my darling, it increases in my fire fire (love)
I know that I belong to him, and my heart belongs to him

Oh my from his mischievous, oh my from his looks, oh my from his eyes
People tell him, stop with the jokes, why in the balcony are make a fuss?
