There's a place in the sun for anyone
Who has the will to chase one
And I think I've found mine
Yes I do believe I have found mine

So close your eyes
And think of someone you physically admire
And let me kiss you
Oh
Let me kiss you
Oh

I've zigzagged all over America
And I cannot find a safety haven
Say - would you let me cry on your shoulder
I've heard that you'll try anything twice

Close your eyes
And think of someone you physically admire
And let me kiss you
Oh
Let me kiss you
Oh

But then
You open your eyes
And you see someone that you physically despise
But my heart is open
My heart is open to you
