I heard me a sermonette Have you heard it yet?

With that soulful message that you won't soon forget

It tells about real true love people lost sight of through their sinful livin' and scornin' Heaven above

It tells you to love one another, To feel that each man's your brother

Live right, 'cause you know that you reap (just) what you sew

And so to have no regrets, and to find what you're missin,

Bow your head and listen to this sermonette
