wake up get up to the dark of night to start to a fire
you gotta make a light you left your world behind you got nothing to know it's fine.

You always were a traveler you're looking for love by light of fire you yearn for a distant shore is it out there is there more

I'm shock in the middle of
our beautiful storm

to l.a. to learn desire to island town to stoke the fire that burns to your aching heart now you're out there let's start

was our love broken by steel is our land our heart or our heel cuz I gave my hope away & i'll give it all again today

I got noone
not even earth sky and sun only these dreams of yearning yearning I have become show me one true way to belong that I can have love & it aint wrong here we go
