We'll see the sea it's beautiful
There will be three of us
The colors bleed and when the seasons change
I will not notice

It's really hard to say
Who i think is better for me

I wish my heart was a stone
I hate making decisions
I am better off alone
cause I don't trust myself

We made nice art
We made nice moves
Though you'll be gone i swear i'll see you soon
We made nice in general we made nice tombs
And you're not going anywhere I know I'll see you soon

It's really hard for me To figure out who it's gonna be
I wish my heart was a stone
I hate making decisions
I am better off alone
cause I don't trust myself

well I have learned to live quite strategically I'm sure in time that you'll like me if you weigh the pros and cons
And once I figure out what makes you tick It's bound to happen

We all touch our faces because everybody's lying About the things we've never done and what we'd like to try

Its really hard to show people how I feel when I hardly know

I wish my heart was a stone
I hate making decisions
