You come to us and criticise
Without prior inspection
Judge us a waste of time
An incorrect perception
Just a noise
Your shallow view
An opinion I find misconstrued
There's probably more thoughts in what we do
Than in a large part of what appeals to you
Why should we?
Why the need to justify?
Only in others presence are you motivated to jeer and jibe
Everybody has the right to opinionise
But to us your pettiness is used to occupy your tiny minds
Extremety retained
Never fall into your line
