"If The Truth Be Known"

Self-determined place of value
Think before you act
You justifiably criticize
Situation development

There's only a single path
Which we have to walk
Realize before you even speak
We are in a one-way street

Why should we retreat
To satisfy your gain?

Think hard, tell me
What's your actual thoughts?
Could you even
Give brain the time of day?

[Incomprehensible]

I'm not defending
Things I've said or done
But let he without sin
Cast the first begrudging stone

If the truth be known
Your desire to judge unchallenged
And revel in the
According attention
