Long way to go thats a cold hard rain
Long way to go if I could hold my head up straight
And I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love
I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love

I'm going home I can almost hear the sea
I'm going home thats where you'll lie with me
And I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love
I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love

We follow in the footsteps, whatever wrong or right Gotta get some rest so lets stay here over night, its paradise
Its a big enough occasion enough to be true Putting into words all the ways that I want you, you know I do
This road will make me crazy, this road will take me home
Lying in my body staring at the skies above, its not enough
'Cos I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love

Nights falling down I could rest here for a while Darkness brings me dreams, of you and me and those wild wild nights
And I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love
I don't know if I can breathe this air tonight
Without your love.....I don't know.....
