You're not as quiet as I thought
You think I'm listening
But I'm not concerned with what you learned from your best friend today
I'd love to stand here and practice being fake

But I see nothing for me
So I slowly walk away

Yeah, so now I'm shooting straight from the lip
Can you keep up with me?
And sorry I don't care about the sleep you lose
Or those new shoes
Or how much you had to pay
I wish that I had a heart that you could break

But I see nothing for me
So I slowly walk away
-Say I won't-

You can't stop me
It's time for me to leave

I would love to find just one good reason to stay
I would love to care enough to make me hesitate

But I see nothing for me
So I slowly walk away

I walk away
