Every time I close my eyes
I see her laying in your arms
And when I taste her on your lips
It killed me
I see her in your eyes
And I feel her in your touch
And the hardest part is knowing
That I'm not enough

But I can take it if you break my heart
And I can take it if you tear me apart
But if you ever say goodbye
I think I'm gonna die

I take pills to sleep at night
And I know I drink too much
But I'm all I got right now
And it scares me
I can hear the passion in your voice
When you whisper on the phone
And I know she's out there waiting
Yes, I know where you're going

Well, I can take it if you break my heart
And I can take it if you tear me apart
But if you ever say goodbye
I think I'm gonna die

I see her in your eyes
And I feel her in your touch
And the hardest part is knowing
That I'll never be enough

And I can take it if you break my heart
Yes, I can take it if you tear me apart
But don't you ever say goodbye (ever say goodbye)
I think I'm gonna die

And I can take it if you break my heart
Yes, I can take it if you tear me apart
But don't you ever say goodbye (ever say goodbye)
I think I'm gonna die

I can take it if you break my heart
And I can take it if you tear me apart
No, don't you ever say goodbye (ever say goodbye)
I think I'm gonna die
I can take it if you break my heart
