They brought babies
Hanging on the blackberry bush
Shush, and you will have your beginning
Boys and girls are ready to going to see the lark
Hark, and you can hear her singing

[Chorus:]

She said let's love while we were
Don't let us wait until it start
You know we have enough love to love everyone
To love everyone
To love everyone
To love everyone

This black bird
She's up there wonders why she's here for
Even when the people call for more
She said the scene is getting a little overpopulated
It's been updated,
But it's still a little overrated

[Chorus]

(You're better off dead if you haven't got bread)
(You're better off dead)
(You're better off dead if you haven't got bread)
(You're better off dead)
I don't want no responsibility
(You're btter off dead if you haven't got bread)
(You're better off dead)
I don't want no responsibility
(You're better off dead if you haven't got bread)
Na na na na na
(You're better off dead)
(You're better off dead) I just wanna be free
(If you haven't got bread)
(You're better off dead, you're better off dead)
(Don't let it go to your head)
Fly like a lark

Now everybody's got a burden on their shoulder
As it gets older, it's not so dark

This song has no answer
It's just a little make-up music
So don't you lose it 'cause life is like a lark

[Repeat Chorus]
