

Lindy LaFontaine

"Free To Breathe"

Visit "Free To Breathe" on MotoLyrics.com

Every day passing by is overdue
Is there a reason why I should stay with you
If you can't keep a lie, you can't keep the truth
And you know that's the way, it must be

So I wake to the water
And I wake to the sun
I don't want to die
So I'm getting high

I will call on the world and say I'm on your side If you let me go by, I will never return and be free to breathe.

As the ocean is wide it will never grow
If I stay by your side, I will never know What could bring in the tide of my lunar glow
And I know this is how I will see

So I wake to the water
And I wake to the sun
Time is going by
And I'm getting high

I will call on the world and say I'm by your side
I will call on the world, I will swallow my pride If you let me go by I may never return and be free...to breathe.

I'll be crawling, walking slowing standing up, slowly approaching the sea Then I'll stand and follow closely to the sound of maybe, who I used to be Then I'll follow it and get my feet wet swimming to a terrifying flee
But in all my life I never scared myself the way that I did running

Free

