"Human Storm"

Hurricane Ian swore by God
he wouldn't cross my fence anymore but if He did it once, if he did it twice why should I trust in the oath of a storm?

He won't stop
Until he has lost it all

Hurricane Ian meant to harm no one
But he has this turmoil in his heart.
Madness was his way out,
but words got caught in his throat...

He has such an anger..
he seeks relief...

When hurricane Ian crossed my fence
He uprooted the willows, uprooted the weed
