Visit "The Curved Spine" on MotoLyrics.com

Who blows the wind that folds the rushes?
Is the same who bends our spines?, Though not enough to break them, but still enough to hurt quite a lot enough to upset the sleep...

is life about breaking the shell?
Cause many have this need
The curvature gets pronounced By the time you notice this,
The floor is... the only landscape you have seen landscape of shoes instead of faces, Where you search for shelter at wrong places,

A landscape where the heads hide between the knees Where you pass over what you want just Because there
