I lost my grip on a vision untold I swing all the way up like the dance that's goin' on I saw your shadow, saw the skeleton aground there's something missing from my memory of... you you shook my world from the ground to my head
It is the moist that will wake me out of bed I listen as the walls cave in I'm hanging on caught in the memory spin
I lost my grip
I balance it on a piece of paper true you're a one trip
sweavin' in for a wake for later

It's leanin on, leanin on the yesterday

It's sneakin in sneakin in on me, on me

I've got a house (?)
I made the walls and letters upside down I tried to hold on I tried to hold on, but you're gone
Then I tried to let go, but your memories are still on

I lost my grip I balance it on a piece of paper
True you're a one trip
sweavin in for a wake for later
It's leanin' on, leanin' on the yesterday

It's sneakin in sneakin in on me, from me...
