I could never have what you have
I could never have what you have

Something got me so tired, frozen
Inside heart was pounding 'cause I knew that

I could never have what you have
I could never have what you have

I'll be the thief, boy
Whisper to me, please

'Cause I could never have what you have
I could never have what you have

Days been going so fast
Trying to keep up now, tell me why you fly

I could never have what you have

I'll be the thief, boy
Whisper to me, now

I could never have what you have
I could never have what you have
