Your head aches and you've had no rest
This day's been a one long test
Years pass too fast, have to stop
Like an angel she appears

Created out of air
And all you troubles, all your fears
Like blown away

'Cause she winks at you
You feel your legs shake
You blow a kiss back
Then time stops until she turns her back

The swarm of heads turn around
And cross the street, oh
Waves of electricity, you feel the heat
You start walking fast
And blindly you're like an ant in a stack

And years pass too fast
Yet in your dreams, you know

'Cause she winks at you
You feel your legs shake
You blow a kiss back
Then time stops until she turns her back
