tired of living this country life it's time to move up from the south it seem to have some thing for us but now it's time to it the bus 60 miles of where it's at to finally get things back on track so come on boy just take us home to the city that's where we belong things have changed but still the same like bars and crowds with different names 24hours grocery stores where the kids hang out just like before is this the place that we are sure could be Paris, London or Tokyo boy it's great to be back home the city that's where we belong

we need excitement for a change but that doesn't mean that we will stay the beginning feels oh so great but soon it turns to just ok see, i've known this place for much to long i'm always one to be moving on but still it's great to be back home
