She moves so gracefully
Step by step like royalty
There's a palace of wonder on the clouds
It fits her well
This crimson crown it fits her well
This crimson crown
Take a step outside to dance in the rain
The cold has no effect when your body's numb and you feel no pain
Wasting hours at a time lost in each other's stares
Her fingertips touch my face as i brush away her hair
she blows my mind
A thousand times
She's got the reason and the rhyme
She blows my mind
Blows my mind
She's a princess with her words and lips
It's a world of LOVE and a crimson crown
She's a princess with her words and lips
It's a world of tasteful bliss
The words mean more when there is no sound
