One night I had a dream that I killed LOVE for the sake of art
But all the inkwells dried up
All the music was lost
And then I was alone
I forgot what creation stemmed from
And I got used to the everyday
But someone comes out and steals my LOVE again
Her
I hope that she can read my face
'Cause I don't know hat I'm trying to say
I can escape all the things that were Except misused words, time and her
I'll still be here waiting for her when the world leaves her behind
How should they know what we have
They don't see what we've got
But, oh how they are shiny and new
And one day sparkle will fade
And time will march on with its syncopated step She'll never lost what she's got
Her
Progression is the key
But we look around to see
That nothing much has changed
We've just reached the 13th grade
She's got her life
And I've got mine
Watch them collide, collide
Kaleidoscope of my mind
