English:

I want to try to gather up this swelling wind.
Go past the peak of the waves racing toward him.
I'm prepared and even if, the road ahead is far,
I'll continue toward my painted future.
As time rushed us,
The beating of our hearts sped up.
Even if we awaken in the middle of our dream,
We were searching for the same light.
Under this glittering starry sky
With the countless constellations and shadows.
Before all this I wonderâ€¦
I wonder what you were staring at.
I wonder what you were staring at.
