"Once we were one

Now we're worlds apart

Deep inside you know you are my other heart

My memories seem like yesterday

Can't believe it's all so far away

All these years

All our tears

Still we sing the same old song

Let's make right all that went wrong

There's no beginning there's no end

There is no reason to pretend

Crying from help from above

We've got to save our love

You said to me

That we hold the key

Eternal love we give and take

It was meant to be

My love for you

Was always true

Still we sing the same old song

Let's make right all that went wrong

There's no beginning there's no end

There is no reason to pretend

Crying from help from above

We've got to save our love

All these years

All our tears

Still we sing the same old song

Let's make right all that went wrong

There's no beginning there's no end

There is no reason to pretend

Crying from help from above
