Someone help me understand
There's something to live for
The summer tides wash up
Wash me up onto the shore
Looking around everyday
Everyone seems so dead
Everything seems so dead
So dead to me

What is there to say
About this big world
Where do we belong
Why is life so long
Living for what
To dance in circles
Start again tomorrow

Someone help me understand
There's something to live for
The summer tides wash up
Wash me up onto the shore
Looking around everyday
Everyone seems so dead
Everything seems so dead
So dead to me
I still get depressed
Believe I'm human
These personalities
What am I to do
Beauty is a killer
What is my voice
Supposed to do now
What is my voice
Supposed to do now

Everyone
So dead to me
Everything
So dead to me
So dead to me

What is there to say

About this big world
Where do we belong
Why is life so long
Living for what
To dance in circles
Start again tomorrow
