All of these days into one.
Awaken to the silence of the sun.
Who can I talk with today?
Why am I still the same?
No reward for calling out your name
Cause i have gone time and time again.
You were often some great distant sun.
I am unfrozen time to shine.
All of my sad songs can make you change.
They'll just keep pushin you further away.
One of your great regrets will be stayin in place.
I can't hold you back from your dreams.
When you figure out what's real, i 'll be standing here,
A little bit older but forgiving as the night of today.
