[Music & lyrics: Anders]

In the land of the free, home of the brave, something is sick

A nation deceived, a nation of slaves, who all got so tricked

Learning to live, the life of the pure, from large roadside signs

Always something to give, for the magic cures, but it's fucking up your minds

God-slave America so fall down on your knees and pray for a better life

God-slave America, you'll never be free - it's an everlasting strife

Always a price, for fast soul-redemption, to relieve you from the pain

But even your Christ, fell into temptation, so there's nothing left to gain...

Only power, false hope and corruption - Your God's a fake

Pointless, obsessive devotion - Your God's a fake

God-slave America so fall down on your knees and pray for a better life

God-slave America, you'll never be free - it's an everlasting strife
