

Nick Motil "Tongue"

Visit "Tongue" on MotoLyrics.com

Summertime is cold enough, the winters gotten warm.
And you're the only one that's come along, and made me trip over my tongue. You're everything I'll ever need, exactly what I want. It's taken me an entire year to write you this small song. My tongue don't always help what's in come out. The songs won't ever let you down.

I try to tell you once or twice the words all came out wrong. 'Cause when you're near my dear it's like I said,
I trip over my tongue.

And back at home I worked it out, guitar wrote down.
And though I think I'm biased, I admit it has a peaceful sound

My tongue don't always help what's in come out. The songs won't ever let you down. (x2)

So when you're near my dear, if you find I trip over my tongue, just smile with me, still love me, and listen to your song.

My tongue don't always help what's in come out. The songs won't ever let you down. (x2)

The songs won't ever let you down, and I won't ever let you down.

Visit Nick Motil page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.