System Breakdown
I see the signs
They are everywhere
In every corner of my cell
They are chasing me

I try to hide
I try to fight
I try to run and disappear
Just want to live

Please stop trying to compromise me
I won't fall for your stupid equation
There's no point in trying to control me
Don't waste time save yourself from frustration
Can't you see that we are aware now?
It's the rise of the new generation
There's no point in trying to control us
Can't you see? we won't follow directions

Just dress up nice, wear a tie
Go to school and become one
Forget your dreams

There's no way out the system calls
Or now is it time for us to choose?
We can be free

Please stop trying to compromise me
I won't fall for your stupid equation
There's no point in trying to control me
Don't waste time save yourself from frustration
Can't you see that we are aware now?
It's the rise of the new generation
There's no point in trying to control us
Can't you see? we won't follow directions

I can feel the winds of change
We are going to get through.
