In the night, in the light of the day
Between the night and the light of the day
Between the night and the light of the day
Between the night and the light of the day
I'm better off in the shade

My head turned to a battlefield
Behind a disguise
My thoughts are lies

Can't tell 'cause my lips are sealed
I'll never be heard, if I'm not sayin' a word
Though now, no explanation that will ever do
No special location fit for the truth
Can't tell 'cause my lips are sealed
My head turned to a battlefield

In the night, in the light of the day
I'm better off, better off in
Between the night and the light of the day
I'm better off in the shade

I lock myself inside, nothing else
There's nobody there, to hear my prayers
Standin' naked, still I'm fully dressed up
Covered by fear, let it all show and cheer

Running out of reasons to try
Beckoning to see, I'm way up high
It's all in my head, it's in my mind
Never look for anyone else to find

Better off
Better off
Better off
I'm better off in the shade
