A man comes on the screen and speaks of power
To change the way that life has lately been
But I don't see the way
Say's he's just like me
A little bit unpure
And in his dark eyes I see a bit of me
And his voice carries free

Raven tell me
Where you've been for all these years
I've been needin'
A way to get past ways of the world
Raven tell me
Where you've been for all these years
I've been needing
A voice that could lead vast of the sky

The ground I walk these days won't seem to hold me
Left or right I cannot tell
Which way I'm running towards
I feel so vague and useless
Like I'm caught in a daydream
Holding the hour by the hand
My indecision takes its stand

Raven tell me
Where you've been for all these years
I've been needin'
A way to get past ways of the world
Raven tell me
Where you've been for all these years
I've been needing
A voice that could lead vast of the sky

Take a stand then at full speed I'm drowning
Into fears of the world I'm falling in
I need a fix to all of the chaos around me
Just pick up the wind below your wings
And up and up please carry me

Raven tell me
Where you've been for all these years

Iâve been needinâ
A way to get past ways of the world
Raven tell me
Where youâve been for all these years
Iâve been needing
