Well maybe it's too late to say I love you
But you know I'm, I'm always late
And maybe it's too late to say I need you
But then again I'll, I probably always will

Cause it's so hard to stay awake
So very hard to concentrate.
It's so hard to navigate
Where there's a heartache.

We've always been best friends
We played in the same band
I don't know why it hurts to Hold your hand.
I've traded all my sense and logic for
All those
Silly love songs they play
On the radio.
I don't know why
Cause' I've heard them all before
Just like this, it's about a long lost kiss
And baby please, don't go
Away from me.

You said soon this would be past
No one will remember in a hundred years.
Learn, there's nothing that last
It's all just a waste of transparent tears.

But it's so hard to stay awake
Hard to just say it's great
It's hard to never break
With this heart, heartache

And I say:

The hell with my grades stand
And see if I care
Only go to school 'cause I know
You'll be there
I've traded all my future just to touch

All those
Silly love songs they play
On the radio
Still don't know why
'Cause I've heard them all before.
Just like this, it's about a long lost kiss
And baby please, please don't go
Away from me.
