It's only just the beginning
Does it have to end just yet
No distance is too great
So if we want things can stay the same

You never know this could be love
You'll never find out if you don't try
And I'd never know if you were the one
If I just let this all slip by
Cause we both know there's something there

The thought of you makes my heart sing
A feeling I'll not soon forget
So if this can handle the wait
Maybe we will play that game

You never know this could be love
You'll never find out if you don't try
And I'd never know if you were the one
If I just let this all slip by
We both know there's something there

Something there what could it be
Something there hiding between you and me
Shall we try and see

You never know this could be love
You'll never find out if you don't try
And I'd never know if you were the one
If I just let this all slip by
We both know

That this could be love
You'll never find out if you don't try
And I'd never know if you were the one
If I just let this all slip by
We both know that something's there
We both know this could be love
