Seriously by Katy McAllister

Hoping that you can't hear me,
Cause I feel like I am thinking out loud.
Wondering if you can read me,
I guess there is no easy way out.

I take it to far when ever you're around,
But you caught me off guard,
You're already breaking me down.

I know I said I'm not looking for serious,
But seriously I didn't know that you would go
And be just what I need.
Seriously.

Thinking I have you figured out,
But then you leave me in doubt,
You make me think I'm seriously crazy.

Walking I see you turning away
Because I don't know what to say,
Do you seriously avoid me?

Can you honestly tell me,
You don't feel a thing,
Cause last night you honestly held me
And I was making believe you were really mine

I know I said I'm not looking for serious,
But seriously I didn't know that you would go
And be just what I need.
Seriously.

I want to tell you
But you make it so hard to do,
What would I lose?
I'd rather keep you around.

I wanna say no
But you make it so hard to go

How do I know you're not gonna let me down
This time around...

I know I said I'm not looking for serious,
But seriously you moved me.
I didn't know that you would go
And be just what I need

If you seriously don't feel a thing,
Lets skip to the part when you leave.
Yeah I said I'm not looking for serious,
But seriously, s eriously I didn't know that you would go
And be just what I need

Seriously.
You moved me

Hoping that you can't hear me,
Cause I feel like I am thinking out loud.
