The sky is turning golden now.
Wish you were with me, now.
My body aches for you.
Feels empty since you left is anybody left, that isnt broken? shattered, confused.
its not that i dont understand your side its just hard to contemplate why this love so deep goes unanswered
im going places in this life and i want you by my side do you remember that night as you tell me good bye
i see that look in yoru eyes
i never wanted you to break down we found real love in this cold
word
isn't that what life is about
can we get away from this town?
i know exactly how i hurt you,
theres nothing left but the truth
we can change this life
once upon a time.
i know theres so much more isnt that worth fighting for its been so long im growing.

we've lost the only one who can fix me, now it's me whos breaking down. i know you see me broken but theres so much unspoken please give us hope.
because ill never let you go.
its not that im forgiving myself.
it's just im going through hell.
to try and think of words to save me.
its not so much i am missing you.
its more like im so lost without you.
i give anything for you to just take me.
i see that look in yoru eyes
i never wanted you to break down

we found real love in this cold
word
isn't that what life is about
can we get away from this town?
i know exactly how i hurt you,
theres nothing left but the truth
we can change this life
once upon a time.
