"Steelmachines"

Tomorrow it will be you tomorrow your time is through they gonna call on you to take you away.
If you don't run with the pack that's something they don't accept they've got to jump on your back then it's alright.
You might have something to say but here there's nothing to say you could try to run away no chance.
Computerbrains don't care steelmachines are everywhere are you getting scared of the future?
Machines are in control they have achieved their goal taken over your role that's all.
