

The Black Crowes

"Another Roadside Tragedy"

Visit "Another Roadside Tragedy" on MotoLyrics.com

Written by: R. Robinson & C. Robinson

Kiss me goodnight, shake me awake.
The closer I get to you the more I can't wait.
Roll on down here; smell my brakes.
No time for coffee, just splash water on my face.
Kick my tires, count out-of-state plates.
Roll down my window, don't the wind feel great.
Sunrise my friend, sunset again.
The song I keep humming while my four wheels are spinning.
Another road, another road, another roadside tragedy.

Wind it down and back it up.
I might get there sooner than I thought
No warranty or no wear and tear
It don't matter just as long as I get there.
Another road, another road, another roadside tragedy.
Another road, another road, another roadside tragedy.

Another road, another road, another roadside tragedy.
Another road, another road, another roadside tragedy.

Visit The Black Crowes page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.