"Long Slow Distance"

And I don't know how
And I don't know why
Golden days, precious moments
Passed me by
My struggle was only
A wrestle with time
And how I only saw clearly
What I left behind

But it hurts
When you say to me
That I only know myself
That I don't know no one else
Hurtful words
But I don't disagree
You stand removed from me
And only this long slow distance is real

Why, why should I care
I can run, I can crawl
I'm getting there
You roll over slowly
As you drift away
Just a sigh...
And you're on your way

But it hurts
When you say to me
That I only know myself
That I don't know no one else
Hurtful words
But I don't disagree
You stand removed from me
And only this long slow distance is-
Long slow distance is real
