"Hanging Around"

I wonder what it's like seeing through your eyes You've offered me to have a try but I was always late The filters that I use give me an excuse
I take away what's real I feel it and it blows my fuse

I hang around
for another round
I'm hanging around
for another round
I'm hanging on to the same old song
I hang around
for another round
Until something stops me

walking by your side
To think before I talk and to move at the same speed as you walk I want to have a weight to keep me in your state I'm watching from above
I love it but it's not for me
