If I could look down on this path I walk from somewhere
way up high,
I could see the crooked road that I have come.
I walked a mile with sorrow, I walked a mile with joy and now I'm less afraid of either one.
For every tear I've cried, there's a smile that I have earned,
for every mile I walked there's a lesson I learned.

Chorus

I'm not lost, I am exploring.
Life is an adventure worth enjoying.
Though I may not know where I'm going,
I am not lost, I am exploring.
I am not lost, I am exploring.

Some people choose to live their lives on quiet avenues,
while others find a place in the parade.
Some like me are seekers, we take less travelled roads,
believing we can find a better way.
And though I get discouraged, I won't be turning back
I have joy as my compass and faith as my map.

Chorus

All of us are headed for the same destination, so why not blaze a trail that's got imagination

Chorus

I am not lost, I am exploring.
