OPEN EYES

With open eyes we open our minds
With regrets we say goodbye
And as we close our eyes we try not to cry
Cuz every tear ends with a "wish you were here"

You can't look with closed eyes
And it's impossible to think with a closed mind
But you can't say hello without goodbye
So please don't look when I cry (please don't look, no)

I'm always the 1st to say tears are overrated
Just messes waiting to be created
But when you came along
You made me sing to a different song
For the first time I had open eyes
You made me realize
This is more than hello and goodbye
But if you go, go, go don't blame me if I cry

You were the one to tell me what I needed to hear
You're the only one worthy of tears
So kiss me
And please don't leave

Give me a reason for anything
Give me a reason to cry, to sing
Cuz I've finally come to my SENSES
I'm always the 1st to say tears are overrated
Just messes waiting to be created
But when you came along
You made me sing to a different song
For the first time I had open eyes
You made me realize
This is more than hello and goodbye
But if you go, go, go don't blame me if I cry

With open eyes I'll let you go
And a big smile to let you know
The pain of goodbye is breaking me slow
So please turn away from me
So that I can cry, cry with open eyes, eyes

In peace

I'm always the 1st to say tears are overrated
Just messes waiting to be created
But when you came along
You made me sing to a different song
For the first time I had open eyes
You made me realize
This is more than hello and goodbye
But if you go, go, go don't blame me if I cry

Oh whoa, oh, noooo
