Every time I open a message from you I cry a little bit because I miss everything we used to be Oh baby are you coming back for me?
What's the point, I know you couldn't even if you wanted to
No, no, no, Noooooooooo

So I'll send a postcard to you
To let you know that I've been missing you dear
Have you been missing me too?
Oh a postcard cuz I wish you were here

Every day when I think about your sweet face
It takes me back to that place
Where we danced, kissed, talked, laughed and had a good time
But then fate got in the way of everything we should be today
I cried when you said goodbye
But I still love you anyway
So I'll send you a postcard to help you find your way back to me
Oh a postcard so that you'll never leave

The colorful leaves fall slowly
When there's no one to dance in them with me Snow is colder when there's no warm heart by my side
And my heart cracks a little bit farther with each goodbye
Cuz there's no one to hold me and catch my tears no

My guitar feels all alone with no one to help me play it My hands feel empty with no one to touch them slowly

Oh no one to help the pain ease and help my heart forget
Oh whoa why aren't you with me?
Yeah, yeah, yeah

Every day when I think about your sweet face
It takes me back to that place

Where we danced, kissed, talked, laughed and had a
good time
But then fate got in the way of everything we should be
today
I cried when you said goodbye
But I still love you anyway
So I'll send you a postcard to help you find your way
back to me
Oh a postcard so that you'll never leave

When we eventually reunite I'll right into your eyes I'll hold the postcard in my hands and I'll never say goodbye (no)
Oh when we, when we, when we reunite

Every day when I think about your sweet face
It takes me back to that place
Where we danced, kissed, talked, laughed and had a
good time
But then fate got in the way of everything we should be
today
I cried when you said goodbye
But I still love you anyway
So I'll send you a postcard to help you find your way
back to me
Oh a postcard so that you'll never leave
