More and more, baby

My emotions were on display
From the first time that I saw you
I really don't know what I have to say
I feel myself going under

I think I'm walking on air tonight
You're the love of a lifetime
And I know that my feeling is right
I know you'll never live until you love

Oh, I hope that it will last forever
You and I will stay together

More and more
Loving you more and more
I can feel the glow of your kiss
I don't have the strength to resist

More and more
Baby, just more and more
In your trap, I will fall, I will give all I have
For a chance to love you more

You took my hand and guide me to a place
Where our feelings just begin to grow
I think that all my wishes will come true
Just be yourself in what you do

I never thought that a rendezvous could
Change the way that I live my life
And I know that my feeling is right
I know you'll never live until you love

Oh, I hope that it will last forever
You and I will stay together, just stay together, baby

More and more
Loving you more and more
I can feel the glow of your kiss
I don't have the strength to resist

More and more
Baby, just more and more
In your trap, I will fall, I will give all I have
For a chance to love you more

And it's your smile when I get sad
And it's your kiss when I just want it more and more

It's getting more and it's just more
And it's getting more and it's just more
And it's getting more and it's just more
And it's getting more and it's just more, and it's I'll give all I have, can't resist your kiss

More and more
Loving you more and more
I can feel the glow of your kiss
I don't have the strength to resist

More and more
Baby, just more and more
In your trap, I will fall, I will give all I have
For a chance to love you more
