I may not know where I'm going now
This broken road is trying to tear me down
But deep inside I've found
A secret place that I never knew
Where I feel safe when the world is untrue
Here's what I've learned to do

Just sing this song
And it takes me right back where I belong
And everyday there's a new bridge to cross
But I'm never far from home
If I put my heart, my soul, my all in this song, oh

I don't depend on friends 'cause they come and go
My belief in myself is gonna carry me through
That's why I'm learning, oh
I'm learning, yeah, I'm learning to sing

Just sing this song
And it takes me right back where I belong
If everyday there's a new bridge to cross
But I'm never far from home
If I put my heart, my soul, my all

I may not have all the words that I need to say
And know I won't always be strong
But I'm never afraid because I hold my destiny
And it depends on me alone, alone so

Just sing this song
And it takes me right back where I belong
And everyday there's a new bridge to cross
But I'm never far from home
If I put my heart, my soul, my all

I'll keep giving my heart, my soul, my all
In this song, in this song, in this song
