Breathing down my neck
I'm trying to get a little respect
I need some music in my veins
I'm tired of living my life complaining
So much for so few
But understand it's all for you

Freedom I'm believing
Can be found in sound
It's in my nature to be more than just a face in the crowd
So mix this coke with crown
It's 10 o'clock and I'm about to hit the stage at my favorite lounge
Like a page from your favorite author
I want ya
More than I can let on
So I write this song
And hope that when it's done
We can all get along

Breathing down my neck
I'm trying to get a little respect
I need some feeling in my veins
I'm tired of living my life complaining
I know I can be so crude
But understand it's all for you

And I
Should switch my perspective
But I don't want to face all the things I've neglected
Don't want to stress about the debts I've collected
It's a beautiful scene
I can't seem to bring my ends to means
But I always remember the dream
So I dream on

And all I need
Is to keep my head
In the right place, yeah
And when you see me, then you'll know
That I've been to hell and back

And I told the devil "no"
No more hate, no more war
No more stealing from the poor
I can't stand it, I'm demanding some peace at hand
And that's all that I'll believe in

Breathing down my neck
I'm trying to get a little respect
I need some music in my veins
I'm tired of living my life complaining
So much for so few
But understand it's all for you
