Dream my precious, with no fear
I'll sing my song to make you sleep
Dream about fairies, dream about elves
About secrets hidden behind your eyes

Child of Aprils Sun you are
I'll hold you to keep you warm all night
Snowflakes floating
I will show you how from the cold comes the light

I will be your guard, drive the freezing winds away
Preserve you from the cold, take you under my wing
Like endlessness above I will be awake
Through this winter night I will sing

The whole world and the deepest spaces
Waiting just for you to come
Someday you will go my dear
I'll give you my voice to walk with you

I will be your guard, drive the freezing winds away
Preserve you from the cold, take you under my wing
Like endlessness above I will be awake
Through this winter night I will sing

From the Emptiness comes life
So full it will be
You came from nowhere
Teached me more I never knew
And I cried with you 'cause I understood
That in the Beginning is always the End as well...

I will be your guard, drive the freezing winds away
Preserve you from the cold, take you under my wing
