Can I call you when it's crumbling down I don't wanne do this all alone will you help me keep my feet on the ground when the rest of me is up and gone cause you know yes you know exactly where i'm coming from and today I just wanne say I really need you to justify (justify)

justify me
open my mind to the things i could be and I know it's okay when you laugh or you cry justify
I'm justified having your love it's more than i ever desirve but i need you to justify me

Often times you meant the ants for me And i never even had to ask you're even there for me emotionally and you never let me see your back

justify (justify)
open my mind to the things i could be
and I know it's okay when you laugh or you cry
justify
I'm justified having your love it's more than i'll ever desirved
but i need you to justify me

And almost evertything I do or say It reminds me of you so promise that you stay you're so stuck with me and i never doubt it

justify (justify)
justify me (justify me)
open my mind to the things i could be
and I know it's okay when you laugh or you cry
justify
I'm justified having your love (having your love) it's more than i'll ever deserve
